Fall in love with the Royal Borough this autumn

Hello Charlotte

As summer keeps a firm hold, with high temperatures and blue skies, it seems too early to be talking about autumn.

But when the seasons finally change, something magical happens leading to colourful autumnal skies and frosty mornings. In this season of leaves and berries, rising mists and early morning dew, wrap up warm to explore the must-see sites and enjoy the must-go events taking place in and around Windsor.

The days may be getting shorter but there are plenty of things to do and look forward to as the warm days of summer eventually move into the warm colours of autumn.
