A Christmas Carol

It's a cold, cold Christmas Eve and miserly moneylender Ebenezer Scrooge has an unexpected visitor: the ghost of his former business partner Jacob Marley. The Great Outdoors

Time to get off the sofa, put down the chocolates and walk away from the TV! Great for mind, body and spirit, no matter the weather, head outdoors to stretch your legs and get some well-needed fresh air.

The Royal Borough features some beautiful countryside with more than 1,000 acres of National Trust land in the north and 4,800 acres of Crown Estate, not to mention the River Thames running through the heart of the region.

Even in winter it's good to enjoy time outdoors so here are some suggestions for walking, cycling, riding and a thoroughly good day out in the Windsor, Maidenhead and Ascot area.

Windsor Great Park

Windsor Great Park is the only royal park managed by the Crown Estate. While the trees are bare, the iconic tree-lined avenue from the Copper Horse statue to Windsor Castle opens up with wide-ranging views. The frosted monuments of the Prince Consort Statue, Cumberland Obelisk and Jubilee Statue also make for some atmospheric sights on a fresh winter walk.

For more information and opening times please visit:
www.windsorgreatpark.co.uk/openingtimes

Winter in The Savill Garden

There is much to see and discover in The Savill Garden during winter. Colour is in abundance from the stems, fruit and evergreen leaves of the winter beds, and in particular, the colourful stems of the dogwood and willows command attention. The bark of the cherry, maple and birch trees are also features to look out for. There is subtlety and atmosphere in a winter visit to The Savill Garden. Bare stately tree trunks open up new vistas to soak in, offset by the hazy light of the low winter sun. The Savill Garden is open daily, excluding Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

www.windsorgreatpark.co.uk/explore/the-gardens/the-savill-garden

Virginia Water

The woodland shores of the lake are an enticing experience as the areas of dappled sunlight through the winter trees draw you in. With features steeped in history, like the ornamental Cascade waterfall, and the abundance of wildlife that call the lake home, there is much to see and discover. Round off your walk with a hearty meal in the Virginia Water Pavilion Café* and stop by the Virginia Water Gift Shop* to explore the winter range of products or pick up a gift membership for someone special this Christmas. *Closed Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

www.windsorgreatpark.co.uk/explore/the-park/virginia-water

National Trust Cliveden

At National Trust Cliveden, the formal gardens of the estate soon give way to secluded glades, tree-lined avenues and picturesque riverside with miles of woodland walks to discover.

www.nationaltrust.org.uk/visit/oxfordshire-buckinghamshire-berkshire/cliveden

Maidenhead

The river at Maidenhead is one of the many attractions of the town and wider area. A walk along the riverside offers amazing views of the Thames and great walks towards the villages of Cookham, Marlow and Bray. Explore the river's towpaths and walkways on foot or take to the water on a passenger cruiser.

Windsor and Maidenhead parks and open spaces

The Royal Borough of Windsor and Maidenhead is full of pockets of green space – parks and open areas in a range of different sizes but all perfect for a spot of relaxation or a bit of exercise. Many have features such as picnic facilities, play equipment, statues, fountains and water features. Others have a fascinating history, for example Baths Island in Windsor was the site of the town's swimming baths back in the 19th century. You'll find areas that are a haven for flora and fauna.

The River Thames

There is something particularly appealing about the River Thames on the stretch from Hurley to Runnymede as it is perhaps the most historic, offering easy strolls along the Thames Path and the chance to visit many attractions. VisitWindsor has more information and inspiration for a fabulous day out in nature.
